Brief Description of Event:

A 'Clay Modelling' workshop was organized by Art and Performance Club of School of Architecture and Planning on 28th of February, 2024. The workshop aimed to provide students with an opportunity to explore their artistic skills and learn the fundamentals of clay modelling.

Students were introduced to various techniques such as hand-building, slab construction, and coiling. Each method was demonstrated and hands-on guidance was provided, allowing participants to create their own unique clay pieces.

The students were required to make wall decoration items. The materials were provided by the club and instructions based on size and dimensions were given.

Throughout the workshop, students were encouraged to experiment with different shapes and textures, fostering creativity and self-expression. The interactive nature of the workshop not only enhanced the participants' artistic abilities but also promoted teamwork and collaboration among peers.

The event was well-received, with participants expressing enthusiasm for future workshops. The Clay Modelling Workshop not only enriched the students' artistic repertoire but also contributed to a vibrant and dynamic campus culture.
